RBI may go for 25 bps rate cut for 4th time in row

New Delhi, Aug 5: The Reserve Bank is expected to cut the policy rate by 25 basis points, for the fourth time in a row, on Wednesday to give a boost to the economy at a time when key indicators point towards a slowdown, opined experts.

The industry also expects the six-member Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) headed by RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das to take steps to improve liquidity situation and also ensure transmission of rate (repo) cuts to borrowers by the banks.

The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) will meet during August 5 to 7, 2019 for the Third Bi-monthly Monetary Policy Statement for 2019-20.

Managing director and CEO of Union Bank of India Rajkiran Rai G said that the MPC is likely to cut rate by 25 basis points.

"At this point of time we need growth impetus. I am sure they will reduce rates," he said.

Industry body CII in a statement said the central bank started its interest rate easing cycle in February 2019, taking cognizance of the headwinds to growth and inflation reading remaining below the RBI's target of 4 per cent.

However, the transmission of the rate-cuts to the end-consumers has remained very gradual and relatively lower than the repo rate revisions, it said. The CII said the RBI should cut cash reserve ratio (CRR) by 50 bps which will release around Rs 60,000 crore into the system.

"This along with infusing liquidity in the banking system will also reduce the burden on banks' resources, given the fact that currently, the credit-deposit ratio is hovering at a high of 77-78 per cent," it added.

Industry body Assocham said that economy requires funding at a cheap rate for further investment to boost the growth rate and to speed up the transmission effect because the inflation is well contained.

"Addressing the liquidity problem of NBFCs, a rate cut will help in boosting the economic growth and consumer spending that may increase the demand for passenger and commercial vehicle," it added.

When asked for expectations from the MPC, Anshuman Magazine, CBRE's chairman and CEO for India, South East Asia, Middle East and Africa said in the light of increasing investor confidence and consumer spending, the economic sentiments are currently looking up.

India's retail inflation marginally accelerated, following the third consecutive policy rate cut by RBI to 25 basis points, he said.

"We expect several industries and sectors, including real estate, to pick up in the coming times and register substantial growth in the latter part of the calendar year," he added.

In its June policy review, while reducing the rate for the third time in a row, the RBI had signalled more easing as it looked to support an economy growing at the slowest pace since the BJP first came to power in 2014.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman will meet heads of public as well as major private sector banks on Monday to review the flow of credit to important sectors of the economy, including MSME, automobile and housing sectors, according to an official statement.

Generally, the finance minister holds a review meeting with heads of public sector banks and financial institutions, but this time the ministry has also invited major private-sector lenders.

Ashish R. Puravankara, Managing Director, Puravankara Limited said it is very encouraging to hear the RBI Governor's advisory to banks to pass on the benefit of the rate cuts announced in June, down to the industries.

"For real estate sector a reduction in the cost of funds means that we can pass that on to our customers directly, which will be encouraging for the sector at large," he said.

Edelweiss Research in a report had said the Indian economy is in the throes of a broad-based slowdown sharp contraction in auto sales, slowing investments and subdued exports.

"In our view, the RBI should ideally front-load a 50bps rate cut at its forthcoming meeting on 7 August, but the RBI governor's recent interview suggests a more measured approach. Hence, a 25bps rate cut looks more probable," it said.

Shanti Ekambaram, President Consumer Banking, Kotak Mahindra Bank too opined that the central bank is likely to cut the repo rate by 25 bps.

"It will be important to study the policy narrative to get a direction of likely future action by the RBI, liquidity measures, any other structural changes etc. Suffice it to say that inflation will be the central theme balanced with the need to boost growth," Ekambaram added.

While inflation continues to remain within the RBI's comfort zone, key indicators like automobile sale and almost flat trend. On MCX, August gold contracts surged 1.73% to Rs.36,192 while October contracts rose 1.75% to Rs.36,904, with both the contracts hitting new highs.

Tracking gold, silver also made a new high after September contracts on MCX rose 2.42% to Rs.42,366. In global markets, gold prices were ruling above the important mark of $1,450 an ounce, boosted by its safe-haven appeal as risk assets like stocks getting hammered amid global geopolitical and trade tensions.

In global markets, gold prices were up 0.65% to $1,450.41 an ounce. Gold prices got a boost after US President Donald Trump last week in a surprise move announced that he would slap 10% tariffs on $300 billion in Chinese imports, renewing trade tensions between world's two biggest economies. China has vowed to fight back. The sudden escalation in the China-US trade war sent investors stampeding to traditional safe harbours including the yen, bonds and gold. Asian shares today slid to over 6-month lows.

Gold, silver prices surge to record highs

Mumbai, Aug 5: Gold and silver prices in India today hit new highs, tracking a firm global trend. On MCX, August gold contracts surged 1.73% to Rs.36,192 while October contracts rose 1.75% to Rs.36,904, with both the contracts hitting new highs.

Tracking gold, silver also made a new high after September contracts on MCX rose 2.42% to Rs.42,366. In global markets, gold prices were ruling above the important mark of $1,450 an ounce, boosted by its safe-haven appeal as risk assets like stocks getting hammered amid global geopolitical and trade tensions.

Lower interest rates, central bank buying and resurgent investor interest are expected to support gold prices, according to a Reuters poll of analysts. Fears of a global slowdown have sent investors flooding to bullion, traditionally seen as a safe asset to hold in troubled times.

Investors stormed back into both gold and silver in June and July, helping to drive up prices. Silver prices are also up sharply this year. Lower interest rates makes non-yielding gold and silver more attractive.

The rally in gold prices indicate that global weakness is likely to continue in other asset classes like stocks, said Ashish Nanda, EVP & Business Head for PCG, Commodities and Currency Business, Kotak Securities.

Bets on higher prices for both metals on the COMEX exchange now outnumber bets on lower prices by the largest amount since 2017, while holdings of silver in exchange traded funds tracked by Refinitiv surged to the biggest on record, Reuters reported.

However, record prices could soften gold demand in India, says World Gold Council (WGC). Higher prices have also increased the supply of scrap supplies in India, dealers said. India raised import duties on gold to 12.5% from 10% last month.

Automation Anywhere acquires Klevops

Chennai, Aug 5: Automation Anywhere, a robotic process automation (RPA) company, has announced that it has acquired Klevops, a privately-held company based in Paris.

With the acquisition, Automation Anywhere fast forwards the RPA category to Attended Automation 2.0, where managers can easily orchestrate work streams across a team of employees and bots, driving a higher level of employee productivity and improved customer experience. This enables customers to automate more processes than ever before, with the same level of central governance, security and analytic capability for which Automation

Anywhere has always been known.

Prince Kohli, Chief Technology Officer, Automation Anywhere said,

"We are taking a bold step forward in delivering Attended Automation 2.0, a next-generation RPA solution that changes the way people work."

"The acquired technology from Klevops will alter the dynamics between attended and unattended automation, making it a foundational solution for companies scaling their automation initiatives across industries. This is especially relevant to contact centre-intensive industries such as banking, financial services and telecommunications," he added.

E-commerce companies focus on small towns to fuel job opportunities

New Delhi, Aug 5: E-commerce companies are betting big on small towns to explore the opportunities offered by a large customer base and are expanding their talent pool in these cities to fuel growth, experts say.

They expect recruitment to go up by 15 per cent in this space.

Small towns are becoming the driving force behind e-commerce growth in the country as online retailers are targeting last mile connectivity and are increasingly focusing on getting the small-town Indian customer to shop online.

Experts said in order to deal with the rising demands of consumers, e-commerce companies have been setting up warehouses in small towns and have also been expanding their talent base in these towns.

The sectors that are expected to grow include logistics, e-wallets, FMCG, and retail as these industries have been focusing on tier II and tier III cities growth and have seen customer base grow faster in comparison to metro cities.

"Last year Diwali festive sales showed 40 per cent contribution from tier II and III cities.

This is a remarkable change and an indication of the reach of e-commerce. Companies are focusing on warehouse, logistics and last mile connectivity. The job market is growing in these cities and will see a growth of 15 per cent in these cities," Teamlead Services Head of Digital & IT Mayur Saraswat said.
