Sasvitha Home Finance to offer home loan to weaker section

Chennai, Nov 3: Sasvitha Home Finance to cater to the unorganised sector and take housing finance to tier-2 and tier-3 cities which have been underserved so far.

Balachandran Muthusamy is the Chairman of the Sasvitha Home Finance. He retired as CMD of the Bank of India, Chairman of the National Payment Corporation of India, Chairman of the Star Union Dai-ichi. He has 4 decades of experience in Banking and insurance.

Speaking to the Trinity Mirror, Balachandran Muthusamy, Chairman Sasvitha Home Finance said, "We have launched Sasvitha Home Finance to cater to the unorganised sector and take housing finance to tier-2 and tier-3 cities which have been underserved so far.

People like farmers, those owned small shop, tea shop and tailor shop, auto and taxi owners are not getting housing loans even though they have capacity to repay the loan amount. We will be focussing the underserved sector.

Most of the well-known establishments are focused on the organised sector — those with monthly salary slips and those who file I-T returns. Even most of the people who approach for housing loan assistance are from urban areas. We wanted to cater to the unorganised sector and take housing finance to tier-2 and tier-3 cities which have been underserved so far. We are not the first to do the same but the pie is so large that we felt that there is always room for new entrants focussing on certain geographies that we are acquainted to and servicing certain segments where we are confident of reaching out and making an impact.

Will fulfill housing dream of unorganised sector

M. Balachandran, Chairman, Sasvitha Home Finance

We have Formed Sasvitha Home Finance to primarily address housing finance needs of Salaried class, self-employed, formal and informal customer segments, Low and middle income families, Semi-urban and rural consumers.

The Government of India has been at the forefront of providing housing to people and subsidies through the National Housing Policy (NHP). The National Mission on "Housing for All by 2022" has also triggered a lot of action in the affordable housing space.

The Prime Minister's Credit Linked subsidy scheme for urban house owners is a big boon. People in the economically weaker sections and middle-income group who want to go for homes for the first time depending on their income strata, can avail subsidies ranging from R6 lakh to Rs. 9 lakh. The great advantage of this interest subsidy scheme is that repayment burden will be reduced. But as a housing finance company, we will not restrict ourselves only to this and will look at the feasibility of financing such people with or without subsidies.

Our plan is to first get into tier 2 and 3 towns and smaller places in Tamil Nadu. After this, we will look to expand in Andhra Pradesh and Karnataka. We are looking to open 10 branches in Tamil Nadu in the first year and 50 branches in five years with a hub-and-spokes model. Our loan book size is expected to be Rs.2500 crore with loan sizes of around Rs.10 lakhs for individual houses and a certain part for loans against property for the period.

People think that financing lower-income groups in the unorganised sector means the likelihood of defaults is more. But it is our opinion that it is not all that bad. According to our business plan, we feel our Non-Performing Assets (NPAs) could be anything less than 1 per cent. An absolute system for monitoring is a must and it needs to be followed up periodically. Any potential default has to be identified in advance and steps should be taken to see that there is no transgression to default.
